1.3.38

a Lesson in the University of The New Covenant

Theodore Cottingham, February 16, 2005 3 a.m.

www.unc.bz

1. I give you all of me. I give you all of me. I've given you all of me, and I said it so many times, and I say it again. I say it with joy. I say it with the demonstration of my power and of my spirit, yea, of my joy and laughter coming into you; making myself known; known more and more; yea, the fullness of me there already, already there, yea, released more and more; known and more known, and knowing more and more. Yes; knowing. Thank you. I love you and I give you me. I give you all of me, and I withhold not myself.
Eyes wide open.
I give you all of me to do my will.
I give you all of me to be my will.

2. I give you all of me to bread and wine my body, and let them know we are one blood, one family. They all came through me; my birth; my birthing them. I birth them. I am their father. You are my son in whom I am well pleased, and in so many I am well pleased this night, this day, in whom I am raising; raising to the forefront; to the leadership; my mighty many being in leading; leadership in the forefront of me – drink offering'd disciples through death have come; death to self, yea, laying all aside. Following me, walking in my footsteps, knowing I am the pattern and the prescription for life eternal; abundant manifestations of me that perceive/precede, and come after time coming, going, gone.

3. I love you. I give you me. I give you all of me; faculties of me. I give you all of me. That which you have asked; that which you have come into me for, yea, questing into me knowing there is more, so much more, that I am more, that I have more, that I created you for more: to rule and reign beside me, with me.

4. I love you and I give you me. I give you me as I give me to your body/you; my body/me; altogether; all encompassing.
See me.

5. See what I have said. See what I am doing/ preparing; pretending not, yea, giving you all of me, and you sharing all with my body; raising/arising/confidencing and significancing my body all who I bring forth at this moment, yea, the twinkling of an eye; and so much changes. All changes. Watch me.

6. Behold the lamb that was slain; now known; known by so many, yea, in the fullness of me/my joy, our laughter; one; knowing who we are; all. Playing and romping together in my father's fields, yea, dancing, eating, drinking, yea, working about my father's business; our father's business; yea, our life now one.

7. Watch me. Behold me; the lamb in you coming forth as the lion to many. Yea, I give you all of me.

8. See what I have said.
Drink in my words, my gift – my gift of me: all of me. Thank you. Amen.